

Daily Mail AUSTRALIA

Home | U.K. | U.S. News | World News | Sport | TV&Showbiz | Femail | Health | Science | Weather | Video | Travel | DailyMailTV

Supply Chain Crisis | Afghanistan | Covid-19 | Breaking News | Piers Morgan | Sydney | Melbourne | Brisbane | New Zealand | Wires

Login

EXCLUSIVE: Kristina Keneally caught out selling products sourced from CHINA to raise money just days after Labor launched 'buy Australian' policy

- Kristina Keneally has a website to call out false statements from Scott Morrison
- She has a store selling products emblazoned with quotes to make fun of the PM
- The items include $34.99 water bottles, $29.99 tote bags and $19.99 mugs
- The products are sourced from China despite Labor's 'buy Australian' policy

By CHARLIE MOORE, POLITICAL REPORTER FOR DAILY MAIL AUSTRALIA

PUBLISHED: 11:05 AEDT, 28 October 2021 | UPDATED: 11:16 AEDT, 28 October 2021

32 shares

80 View comments

Kristina Keneally has been accused of 'hypocrisy' for selling products sourced from China to raise election funds just two weeks after Labor launched its 'buy Australian' policy.

The shadow home affairs minister has made a website called 'the BS Report' where she records statements from Scott Morrison that she believes are false or deliberate lies.

In a bid to raise money for the upcoming election, Senator Keneally has also set up an online store to sell $34.99 water bottles, $29.99 tote bags and $19.99 mugs and iPhone cases emblazoned with quotes that poke fun at the Prime Minister.

Kristina Keneally (pictured in Parliament last week) has been accused of 'hypocrisy' for selling products sourced from China to raise election funds just two weeks after Labor launched its 'buy Australian' policy

Site Web Enter your search

Follow Daily Mail

Follow Daily Mail

Follow @DailyMail

Follow Daily Mail

Follow @dailymailuk

Follow Daily Mail

Download the MailOnline app to get the latest news from Australia and all over the world

DON'T MISS

▶ Rebecca Gibney looks NOTHING like this anymore: Packed to the Rafters star ditches her trademark tresses for shock new hair-do

▶ Mel Rawson shows off her incredible post-baby body as she and Bryce Ruthven put on brave faces and attend charity event while their twins remain in NICU

▶ Sunrise newsreader and former Miss World Australia Amber Laidler announces she's expecting her first child with AFL star husband Jeremy

▶ Ex-Aussie Home Loan CEO John Symond catches up with his long-time friend former Olympian Jane Flemming and foots the bill with cash

▶ Isaiah Washington says Ellen Pompeo was paid $5M 'to not tell the world how toxic and nasty Patrick Dempsey really was' during #MeToo movement

▶ Phoebe Burgess suffers an awkward FAIL as son Billy, 2, gets a digital enhancement of 'collagen and lashes' by mistake 'When the filter hits your date instead!'

TikTok users claim to have spotted Selena Gomez in the corner of Chris Evans' Instagram Story... amid dating rumors

In a bid to raise money for the upcoming election, Senator Keneally is selling $34.99 water bottles, $29.99 tote bags and $19.99 mugs and iPhone cases (above) emblazoned with quotes and images that poke fun at Scott Morrison

These include his 2019 comment that electric vehicles would 'end the weekend', his insistence that 'I don't hold a hose, mate' while in Hawaii during the bushfires and Joe Biden's quip 'that fella down under' after forgetting Mr Morrison's name in a joint press conference.

But some of the product descriptions say 'sourced from China', prompting critics to accuse Labor of hypocrisy after it launched a flagship policy to boost Australian manufacturing.

Labor's Buy Australian Plan, announced earlier this month, aims to 'maximise the use of local workers and businesses' by making sure Government contracts are offered to Australian companies first.

On the BS Report store, the description for a water bottle with the quote 'that fella down under' said 'blank product sourced from China'.

But on the same product with the quote 'end the weekend' - which Senator Keneally advertised on Twitter - the source had been removed and replaced with a slash.

▶ It's a boy! AFL superstar Max Gawn and his wife Jessica welcome their first child together

▶ The Bachelor star, 29, claims she had a 'HEART ATTACK' as a side effect of her first Pfizer jab' and insists the complications are 'not rare anymore'

EXCLUSIVE Love Island's Ari Kumar says it was 'gut-wrenching' to watch Ryan move on with Lexy in front of her face... and claims one islander is NOT genuine ▶ Natalie Roser flaunts her sensational bikini body in racy swimsuits as she shares behind the scenes glimpses of a sultry photo shoot She's red hot!

▶ Rebel Wilson shows off her 35kg weight loss in a pair of skinny jeans as she enjoys quality time with best friend Hugh Sheridan in Los Angeles

▶ Gwyneth Paltrow receives gift box from SKIMS x Fendi and proudly shows off new gear... as daughter Apple, 17, introduces her to term 'snatched'

▶ Today show host Allison Langdon shares her simple parenting tips... as she prepares to host Channel Nine's new series Parental Guidance

▶ Sarah Jessica Parker films alongside SATC love interest Jon Tenney after THAT kiss - as rumours continue to swirl that Carrie and Big have split

▶ Anthony Callea warns people off marriage as he claims 'the seven-year itch is REAL' - as husband Tim Campbell leaves him speechless with a cheeky joke

▶ Pip Edwards leaves boyfriend Michael Clarke to settle into his new home as she heads off for a swim in a stylish bikini See you later, dar!

Paulini Curuнавuли, Isaiah Firebrace and Jaguar Jonze set to

Senator Keneally has advertised her products which are sourced from China on Twitter

- High-grade stainless steel
- 17 oz (500 ml)
- Dimensions: 10.5" x 2.85" (27 x 7 cm)
- Vacuum flask
- Double-wall construction
- Bowling pin shape
- Odorless and leak-proof cap
- Insulated for hot and cold liquids (keeps drinks cold for 24 hours)
- Patented ORCA coating for vibrant colors
- Hand-wash only (dishwasher not recommended)
- Blank product sourced from China

- High-grade stainless steel
- 17 oz (500 ml)
- Dimensions: 10.5" x 2.85" (27 x 7 cm)
- Vacuum flask
- Double-wall construction
- Bowling pin shape
- Odorless and leak-proof cap
- Insulated for hot and cold liquids (keeps drinks cold for 24 hours)
- Patented ORCA coating for vibrant colors
- Hand-wash only (dishwasher not recommended)

On the BS Report website, the description for a water bottle with the quote 'that fella down under' said 'blank product sourced from China' (left). But on the same product with the quote 'end the weekend' - which Senator Keneally advertised on Twitter - the source had been removed and replaced with a slash (right)

Liberal Senator Hollie Hughes accused the former NSW Premier, who lives in Sydney's affluent Northern Beaches but will run for the disadvantaged seat of Fowler at the election, of hypocrisy.

'What's BS is Labor pretending to back Aussie jobs publicly while secretly sourcing their fundraising merchandise from China,' she told Daily Mail Australia.

SHARE THIS ARTICLE

RELATED ARTICLES

Watch the heart-warming moment PM invites a grandma to

Tourists WILL be coming back to Australia before the end

'There's a pattern here from Kristina - she BS'ed the people of NSW and got kicked out of office as Premier, she's trying to BS about where she lives so she can run for a lower house seat, and now she's spouting BS about supporting Australian products and jobs.

'The hypocrisy would be outrageous if it wasn't so typical of what Australians have come to expect from Kristina Keneally.'

Senator Keneally hit back, saying the BS Report uses local printing services to emblazon the products after they arrive from China.

▶ battle it out to represent Australia at Eurovision 2022

▶ Angelina Jolie's daughter Shiloh, 15, continues her radical image change as she wears an elegant lace detailed dress to Eternals UK screening

▶ Bella Hadid flashes MAJOR sideboob in a racy black jumpsuit in new Mugler campaign

▶ Jewel leaves Joe Rogan stunned with outrageous story about her grandma beheading a stray cat and feeding it to her eight children with a cheese sauce

▶ Jennifer Hawkins out-earned Margot Robbie by $10million in 2021, according to the Australian Financial Review's Young Rich List

▶ Julia Roberts has five stunning bouquets of flowers delivered to the $56.9million mansion she's quarantining at in Sydney as she turns 54 Birthday girl!

▶ Big Brother's Krystal Hipwell furiously hits back at troll who accused her of being 'vain' and left with 'nasty scars' after breast implant removal

▶ Bella Hadid calls herself a 'full time auntie' as she gushes over sister Gigi's daughter Khai, one, and says the baby has 'changed' their family

▶ Jennifer Lopez bundles up in beanie, hoodie and jacket while filming The Mother in Canada

▶ Surfing champion Mick Fanning sells two Coolangatta investment properties in a multi-sale for $6million

▶ Jennifer Garner shares a throwback snap with her younger sisters Susannah and Melissa... documenting their 'lifelong struggle' with bangs

This is one of the phone cases that is on sale on Kristina Keneally's BS Report website for $19.99

'The BS Report uses an on-demand printing service with printing partners in Queensland and Victoria,' she told Daily Mail Australia.

'This same company has been named as the number one "on demand company in Australia".

'Now, the BS Report Store wouldn't be necessary, except that Mr Morrison is so full of BS.

'Every day it's more and more BS. There are some great products on the BS Report Store and I'd encourage everyone to have a look, share and buy the merchandise to help get rid of Mr Morrison and his BS.'

Liberal Senator Hollie Hughes (pictured) accused Senator Keneally, who lives in Sydney's affluent Northern Beaches but will run for the disadvantaged seat of Fowler at the election, of hypocrisy

▶ The Bachelorette hits another embarrassing ratings low - as it's revealed that Brooke Blurton received a HUGE pay day to star

▶ Sophie Monk enjoys a glass of wine in her flip-flops outside a takeaway shop in Byron Bay with fiancé Joshua Gross

▶ Bec Judd shows off her incredible figure and abs of steel in a bikini from her own Jaggad range as she preens and poses at the beach

▶ Grey's Anatomy star Kate Walsh gets her hair dyed at a salon in Perth after relocating to Western Australia

▶ Georgia Love celebrates five years since first meeting husband Lee Elliott on The Bachelorette with a low-key pub dinner in Melbourne

▶ Investigators say they're 'not exactly sure' of Alec Baldwin's 'whereabouts' as actor retweets story about Rust assistant director not checking gun

▶ Steve Irwin's hot niece Rebecca Lobie shows off her best assets in a plunging swimsuit Her eyes are up here!

▶ The Block star Josh Packham is caught liking co-star Tanya Guccione's racy swimsuit photo Watch out, Vito!

▶ Sylvia Jeffreys reveals she wants a daughter after having two sons with husband Peter Stefanovic Ready for more!

▶ The end is in sight on The Block as the teams finish their renovations and wow the judges during Sunday's incredible whole house reveals

▶ Erika Jayne denies knowing estranged husband Tom Girardi was allegedly stealing and vents fury at him on RHOAH reunion 'I am very angry'

▶ Jason Momoa reveals one specific scene in